

Time Series Computing Project

The time series computing project consists in (i) implementing an algorithm or a set of procedures for time-series analysis (ii) writing a demo to showcase how the algorithm works (iii) writing a short report explaining the algorithm. The time series project is carried out in groups of no more of 4 people. The set of routines to be implemented has to be picked from the list of projects for the course.